NO MAN IS STRONGER THAN HIS STOMACH.

Let the greatest athlete have dyspepsia and his muscles would soon fail. Physical strength is derived from food. If a man has insufficient food he loses strength. If he has no food he dies. Food is converted into nutrition through the stomach and bowels. It depends on the strength of the stomach to what extent food eaten is digested and assimilated. People can die of starvation who have abundant food to eat, when the stomach and its associate organs of digestion and nutrition do not perform their duty. Thus the stomach is really the vital organ of the body. If the stomach is "weak" the body will be weak also, because it is upon the stomach the body relies for its strength. And as the body, considered as a whole, is made up of its several members and organs, so the weakness of the body as a consequence of "weak" stomach will be distributed among the organs which compose the body. If the body is weak because it is ill-nourished that physical weakness will be found in all the organs—heart, liver, kidneys, etc. The liver will be torpid and inactive, giving rise to biliousness, loss of appetite, weak nerves, feeble or irregular action of heart, palpitation, dizziness, headache, backache and kindred disturbances and weaknesses.

Mr. Louis Pare, of Quebec, writes: "For years after my health began to fail, my head grew dizzy, eyes pained me, and my stomach was sore all the time, while everything I would eat would seem to lie heavy like lead on my stomach. The doctors claimed that it was sympathetic trouble due to dyspepsia, and prescribed for me, and although I took their powders regularly yet I felt no better. My wife advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—and stop taking the doctor's medicine. She bought me a bottle and we soon found that I began to improve, so I kept up the treatment. I took on flesh, my stomach became normal, the digestive organs worked perfectly and I soon began to look like a different person. I can never cease to be grateful for what your medicine has done for me and I certainly give it highest praise."

Don't be wheedled by a penny-grabbing dealer into taking inferior substitutes for Dr. Pierce's medicines, recommended to be "just as good."

To gain knowledge of your own body—in sickness and health—send for the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser. A book of 1008 pages. Send 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main Street, Buffalo N. Y.

IT IS FOR LADIES, TOO.

They Can Stop Their Hair Falling Out With Herpicide.

Ladies who have thin hair and whose hair is falling out, can prevent the hair falling out, and thicken the growth, with Newbro's "Herpicide." Besides, Herpicide is one of the most agreeable hair dressings there is. Herpicide kills the dandruff germ that eats the hair off at the root. After the germ is destroyed, the root will shoot up, and the hair grow long as ever. Even a sample will convince any lady that Newbro's Herpicide is an indispensable toilet requisite. It contains no oil or grease, it will not stain or dye. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

BOLD ROBBERIES IN RUSSIA.

Two daring train robberies were committed in Russian Poland on Saturday, one of them resulting in a considerable loss of life. A train from the frontier station Herby bound for Czenstochowa was carrying money received from the customs house to the branch of the imperial bank under protection of seven frontier guardsmen. Gen. Zakat, chief of the frontier guards, Gen. Weiteuring, chief of the customs service of Warsaw; Col. Brazezicki and Capt. Laguma were passengers. Fifteen persons boarded the train at a way station. They evidently had been waiting for it and made an attack on the guardsmen, who were reinforced by the officers named. A regular skirmish followed, in which the two generals, two officials, five soldiers and one robber were killed and Col. Brazezicki and one robber wounded. The robbers escaped, taking $8,000 and the arms of those who had attempted to defend the train against robbery. The postal car robbed contained a package of $60,000 in cash from abroad and at least $50,000 additional funds. The actual amount taken by the robbers cannot as yet be definitely stated, as the documents attached to the money parcels are missing.

The second robbery was committed Saturday evening on the Warsaw-Vienna railway six miles from Warsaw. While the train was under way unknown persons pulled the danger signal causing it to stop. Robbers, who were aboard, jumped out and seized the locomotive and detached the mail car from the train and ran it down the line. They secured $37,500 of government money. Efforts to capture the robbers failed.

Public disorder is growing daily throughout Russian Poland. On Saturday a panic occurred in a public park in Warsaw. Many shots were fired and one person was killed and four were wounded.

A party of men armed with revolvers forced their way Saturday into the Bousel printing establishment in St. Petersburg. They made the foreman a prisoner and prevented the compositors from leaving the building. They then had printed $150,000 copies of the Viborg manifesto of the outlawed lower house of parliament.

A grave outbreak occurred Saturday in the Sevski regiment at Poltava, following the arrest of a private of the First Battalion, who was discovered with some others soldiers, in a shed where the revolutionists are in the habit of holding meetings. After the arrest the entire First Battalion, accompanied by a large crowd, paraded the streets in defiance of the military authorities. The soldiers proceeded to the artillery barracks, where they seized several guns and marched with them to the prison where the political prisoners are confined. At this stage all the remainder of the Poltava garrison was called out. The loyal troops fired on the mutineers with machine guns, as they were engaged in breaking down the gate of the prison. Several men were killed or wounded. The outbreak was not suppressed until 2 o'clock yesterday morning.

While a train traveling from Kharkov to Yekaterinoslav yesterday was passing the great monastery erected near Borky by Alexander III to commemorate the escape of himself and members of the Imperial family from a railroad wreck in 1888, firing and cries of help were heard. The train was stopped, and a monk came on board. He said the peasantry were attacking the monastery, and that the monks were defending it. He had managed to escape to summon help.

The Bear Pond Lumber Company, of Washington county, Md., has leased 1,000 acres of manganese land in Shenandoah county, to Olney McCormack, of Philadelphia, for $100,000, and the company is to get one-half of the profits besides. Mr. McCormack has started to take the manganese from the tract leased.

Last February Dr. Samuel McCune and wife sold this tract of land to the Bear Pond Lumber, Coal and Oil Company, of Dover, Del., consisting of 1,010 acres, for $10,100.

P. M. Mishler, of Hagerstown, president of the Bear Pond Company, has sold to Mowel & Brother, of Hanover, Pa., 9,600 acres of timber and adjoining manganese property for $40,000. There are 15,000,000 feet of white oak, besides other timber on the tract. The timber will be made into plow beams.

The Breweries Bond and Security Company, which was organized some time ago to take over independent brewery companies in New York and vicinity, has closed contracts with ten companies and completed negotiations with seven others. This will give the trust a producing capacity of 2,300,000 barrels, and will make it the largest brewery combine in the world. Two series of bonds will be issued, to the amount of $7,500,000 and $8,000,000, respectively, and in one 2,000 saloonkeepers will be interested. There will also be $12,000,000 in common and preferred stock.

SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

MONDAY EVENING, JULY 30, 1906.

THAT genial trust magnate, E. H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steel Corporation, before sailing for Europe gave a glimpse of trust prosperity. He stated that the steel trust had received in the month of June new business of nearly 100 per cent more than in the corresponding month of last year. He further said that the net earnings of the trust for the year will be between $140,000,000 and $150,000,000 as compared with the previous high record of $133,000,000. Thus this puling infant industry, which the republican tariff protects from competition by duties of 20 to 93 per cent, is allowed to extort from the people about $130,000,000 profits after paying all expenses, including the payment of $18,240,000 for interest and sinking fund on outstanding bonds at 6 per cent interest. This will leave over 13 per cent that can be paid as a dividend on the ontstanding common and preferred stock which amounts to $1,018,560,200, more than half of which is notoriously watered stock, so that the interest earned on the actual money invested is 26 per cent. The tarifi profits of the steel trust are estimated to exceed $75,000,000, so if the whole tariff schedule on iron and steel was cut down 50 per cent, thereby reducing the tariff profits to $37,500,000, the steel trust would still be making nearly $100,000,000 profit. The steel trust of course would declare they would be ruined if such a proposition was before Congress, and the republicans would vote against such a bill for tariff reduction, but if the democrats elect a majority of the members of Congress this fall, that will be one of the tariff reform measures that the trust and its republican friends will have to meet. Can any disinterested person say it is not a fair proposition and a square deal all around?

"IF JUDGED by his charities, Russell Sage will be doomed to eternal unhappiness," said Rev. Albert Bell, pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran Church, in York, Pa., in an address Saturday night. Rev. Bell characterized the dead financier as a poor miserable, mean-minded man, and if his future heavenly joy will be in proportion to his charities, despised while on this earth, Russell Sage will be doomed to eternal unhappiness. The pastor also said: "I am of the opinion that the members of this church and all other churches should ont only pray for Mrs. Sage, who has inherited the immense wealth, but that they should individually write to her and point out the wonderful opportunities she now has for giving charities for deserving purposes." Most people, church members as well as non-communicants, see no just reason for such a judgment upon the part of a minister of the gospel. Russell Sage may have given much in an unostentatious way to worthy causes, and in doing so carried out the injunction proclaimed on the mount. The pastor called upon the members of his flock to write to Mrs. Sage and direct her how to dispose of her money. This would be impertinent, to say the least, as most people cannot see what the church has to do with her or hers.

THE republican and democratic congressional campaign committees are both said to be hard pressed for funds with which to conduct the routine work incident to preparing for the autumn elections. The great corporations seem unwilling to advance any money, and it is impossible to secure any railroad passes east of Chicago. The necessary funds must be raised this year by private subscriptions. Half a dozen rich men in the Senate and the House have started the funds for the two committees, and the hat will be passed around from time to time. The work of sending out campaign literature has been started by the democratic committee. Letters have been received from all sections of the country requesting documents relating to tariff revision, trust and the eight-hour law.

BISHOP MCFAUL at the fifth annual convention of the American Federation of Catholic Societies in Buffalo, N Y, yesterday spoke against the evils of socialism and divorce. "The stability of this nation rests upon the American home," he said. "Socialism would stretch out her foul hands upon the property of our people. Look at Maxim Gorky, the Russian socialist, coming to America to ask us to turn upon Russia. That villain and scoundrel and polluter of womanhood would preach to us the gospel of human liberty." The Bishop expressed the opinion of all right-thinking people not only in the United States, but throughout the world.

DR. R. B. HOYT, a former member of the Chicago Board of Education, some time since gathered statistics which convince him that at the present rate of increase of insanity the population of this country will be mad in two hundred and sixty years. But a well-known congressman when asked recently if he did not think the country was going crazy said it had already gone so. It will be seen that Dr. Hoyt and the congressman are a little apart as to time, on this question, but that both have reached the same conclusion.

ST. SWITHIN has had fully two weeks of his forty days of rain.

From Washington.

Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

There is a report that Elmer Dover is to resign as secretary of the republican national committee because he and its chairman, Postmaster General Cortelyou, don't get along well together. The two have never been congenial, and Mr. Cortelyou has permitted him to cut but small figure in the work of the committee. Saturday Mr. Dover showed that he has radically different ideas from those of his chief as to how the congressional campaign this fall should be conducted. In an intorview he says the party should not adhere to the stand-pat policy, but the tariff should be treated as a local matter, each candidate being left free to handle it as he thought best. This policy is not in line with that agreed upon at a conference of republican leaders with the President, and, of course, cannot be approved by Chairman Cortelyou. Dover was for years private secretary to Senator Hanna.

The State Department this morning received a cablegram from United States Ambassador Griscom, at Rio, Brazil, announcing the arrival at that port on Saturday of Secretary of State Elihu Root. Ambassador Griscom says Secretary Root was received by the Brazilian government with all honors, and as he drove through the city was given a popular ovation. He visited the President of Brazil and was given a brilliant reception at the palace, where he received the members of official and social life. He also visited St. Louis Pavilion, the seat of the Pan-American Congress. The report of Ambassador Griscom continues by saying that by a vote of the Brazillian Congress Secretary Root and the Brazilian Minister for Foreign Affairs will be made honorary presidents of the Pan-American Congress, and a special session will be held in honor of the American Secretary of State on July 31.

Manila newspapers are speculating about changes said to be soon due in the administrative offices of the islands It is printed "on good authority" that President Roosevelt offered to appoint Beekman Winthrop, governor of Porto Rico, as vice governor general of the Philippines, but that Winthrop declined to be considered for anything less important that the governor itself. This alleged fact is said to have been developed when it become known that Justice James F. Tracy, now of the Supreme Court of the Islands is to take the place of James F. Smith upon the latter's surrender of the vice governorship in exchange for the governorship, in September when Gov. General Ide is to retire. Dean C. Worchester will retire as a Philippine Commissioner in September, it is announced, and his place is to go to W. Morgan Shuster, now collector of customs at Manila. The new collector of customs is to be either W. E. Pulliam, or Col. Colton, who is now the collector of the customs in Santo Domingo. Judge Tracy's seat on the Supreme bench is to be filled by the appointment of Senor Gregorio Araneta, at present solicitor general of the islands and Judge Araullo, a native judge of the Court of First Instance, is to succeed Araneta.

A complaint against the L. & N. Railroad by J. R. Lucas & Company, of East St. Louis, was filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission today. It specifies that the railroad from 1900 to the present time charged the petitioner two cents per 100 pounds for the privilege of reconsigning hay at East St. Louis, whereas no such charge for the privilege of reconsignment is made at gateways and distributing markets other than the city of East St. Louis. This charge is denounced as unjust, discriminatory and unreasonable. The complainant prays that the practice be terminated and that the defendant railroad be required to make a refund to the complainant, by way of damages and reparation. The overcharge for the six years is placed at $8,714 77.

Former Congressman C. F. Trigg, of the Ninth Virginia district, is here on business. "There is nothing in all this talk you hear about the Ninth district being certainly lost to the democrats this year," he says. "The republicans are making their boast that they have made the re-election of Colonel Slemp a certainty by paying their capitation taxes, while the democrats have neglected in large measure to pay up. I believe as many democrats as republicans have paid their taxes. The republicans are bluffing. I tell you right now that there are several democrats in the district who could defeat Slemp."

Senator Daniel is in the city and in a few days will return to Virginia. "We have one republican district to carry in Virginia," he says, "and we may carry that. All the others are democratic and we will hold every one of them."

Time and a half pay for all work done in excess of eight hours. Double time for Sundays and holidays. Free transportation to and from the United States when on leave. Should a strike result, as it certainly will, when the demands are in their entirety refused, a complete tie-up of canal work would follow.

A dispatch from London says there is a possibility that King Edward and Queen Alexandra may visit the United States unofficially, of course, some time next year. It is one of the dearest wishes of both to see some of the modern wonders of America. They have practically seen the rest of the world. The visit to the United States, if made, would come after their visit to Canada next year, and that visit is almost a certainty.

An attempt had also been made to set fire to the house, but Pearse arrived in time to extinguish a blaze that had been started in a bedroom.

Memorial to Stonewall Jackson.

An event of much interest and one unique in the annuals of the colored race took place in Roanoke yesterday when a memorial window to Gen. Thomas J. (Stonewall) Jackson C. S. A. was unveiled in the Fifth Avenue Colored Presbyterian Church, the leading colored church, of that denomination in the vicinity. The services were attended by the Confederate camps of Roanoke and Salem and by the delagations from the chapters of the Daughters of the Confederacy of those two places. Addresses were made by former ex Confederates and leading white citizens of Roanoke.

The services witnessed the realization of the ambition of Rev. L. L. Downing, pastor of the Fifth Avenue Church and a colored divine of wide reputation, to pay a fitting tribute to the memory of the Confederate commander, who was the Sunday school teacher of Downing's parents, his father and mother having been members of a large class of slaves Jackson taught at Lexington before the war. The picture presented on the window is that of an army camping on the banks of a stream, the inscription underneath being Jackson's last words, 'Let us cross over the river and rest in the shade of the trees."

Ran Into Landslide.

The Pacific express train, No. 37, of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad, which left New York last night at 9:30 o'clock, was wrecked at New Hamburg, seven miles north of Fishkill Landing and about eight miles south of Poughkeepsie, at 11:21 o'clock last night.

The train ran into a landslide which had been washed upon the tracks by the heavy rains of the afternoon. The engine and baggage car were thrown from the rails, and, tearing across the southbound tracks, plunged into the Hudson river. The engineer, fireman and one baggage-man are reported drowned.

The cars which did not go into the river were thrown from the track and piled up in a bad wreck. A score or more of passengers are injured.

Another account says that fifty passengers were injured in the wreck.

Virginia State Bonds.

The board of sinking fund commissioners has decided to advertise for State bonds. Within a short time it will ask bids for selling to the commissioners $130,000 of Century and Riddleberger bonds, which will be retired, so far as the public is concerned. The interest on the bonds will have to be paid till canceled, but instead of the money going into the hands of private parties it will find its way to the literary fund, which is devoted to the public school fund. The sinking fund commissioners have for several years been getting bonds and receiving the interest for the school fund. Many of the bonds have been canceled, thereby saving the State large amounts of interest charge. The fund is in good condition, and today the bonds are selling over 95 and draw but 3 per cent. interest.

Today's Telegraphic News

Arrest of Negro Murderer.

Canonsburg, Pa., July 30.—Constable John H. Miller drove into Canonsburg this morning with Elmer Dempster, 19 years old, a negro who had been arrested for the murder of Mrs. Samuel Pearse, and two children and the shooting of a third child last evening. Dempster was taken to the county jail, at Washington. To the officers, the murderer admitted that the cause of the crime was his own brutal treatment of Margaret Pearse, four years old, who he said he had abused several times in the stable the past few days. The child told her mother and last evening Mrs. Pearse accused him of his crime. He says she reached for a revolver on the mantel, but he overpowered her, took the weapon and fired. The bullet went through her heart and she fell to the floor dead. Dempster then seized Margaret and shot her through the head. Next he caught the little three-year-old boy Robert and shot him through the body. Even the baby in the cradle did not escape, and he put a bullet through the head of Dwight Pearse, one year old. Dempster was cool and cunning enough to seek to hide the evidence of the crime, telling the officers of his efforts to set fire to the house before he fled. When asked if he did not regret his brutal acts, Dempster in a surly and defiant manner, almost shouted: "No."

Washington, Pa., July 30.—When Dempster, the colored murderer, reached here this morning, nearly 600 persons were waiting to catch a glimpse of him. Cries of "kill the negro" and other expressions were heard.

Another Advance in Pork.

Kansas City, July 30.—Butchers have been notified of another advance in the price of pork and pork products, effective today, which will make the cost of these products the highest they have been in 20 years. Meat has been advancing in prices all summer. Pork has advanced particularly. Fresh Pork has been sold wholesale at 11½ cents to 12 cents a pound to the heaviest buyers. Beginning today the price will be 13½ cents, and it is to be maintained by all the companies, according to information received by the butchers. Mutton sold in carcass at 7½ cents a pound last week. Today the price will be 10 cents a pound. Scarcity of stock is given by the packers as an excuse for boosting prices. There has been no advance of prices in the live stock market, however, to warrant such increase.

Preparing to Receive Rockefeller.

Cleveland, O, July 30.—John D. Rockefeller is expected to arrive in Cleveland Tuesday morning. All is prepared for his reception at Forest Hill. He will remain here until September 1. He is becoming a good mixer. "Much as the public has learned of him during the past year, they are going to learn a great deal more during the next four months," said Dr. Biggar, just home from his trip abroad with him. "Remember how he entertained last summer? He expects to do even more this summer, which will give people opportunity to learn more of his personality. "Being a mixer is new experience for Rockefeller, but he declares he likes it very much."

Probable Contest.

New York, July 30.—A contest of the Russell Sage will may result unless Mrs. Sage, rather than have her husband's $76,000,000 estate tied up by years of litigation, makes a compromise with his numerous relatives. James H. Sage, of Troy, who has returned to that city from New York, states that there would be a conference of the Sage heirs with Senator Brackett, of Saratoga, today, when the future policy of the Sage heirs will be determined. Today's conference pay be followed by co-operation between the various groups of heirs, although the Chapins, of Oneida, N. Y., and the Sage relatives in Illinois have expressed their intention not to contest the will.

Drowned.

Boston, July 30.—Two drownings only were reported in Massachusetts as the result of yesterday's outings. At Dedham, Leroy C. Porter, 20 years old, son of Mrs. C. Hunt, of Hyde Park, was drowned while canoeing with his uncle, D. A. Porter, of Mansfield. Both were moving about in the canoe when it overturned. Leroy Porter sank, but his uncle was able to get ashore. The body was recovered. At Fall River Frank Collier, 19 years old, was drowned while bathing in Watuppa Pond. He was seized with cramps and sank before his companions could reach him.

Barbarous Methods of German Soldiers.

Capetown, South Africa, July 30.—A German who has arrived here from German Africa, says that the German soldiers engaged in putting down the native rebellion have resorted to barbarous methods to subdue the rebellious natives. He cites one instance where fifty native women were shot by the soldiers because they refused to reveal the hiding place of Chief Marengo, leader of the rebels, who was recently reported to have been captured by the Cape town police.

Two Killed and Thirty Injured.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 30.—Two persons killed and thirty injured, of whom fifteen are seriously hurt, is the revised estimate of casualties in the wreck last night of the Pacific Express train No. 37, of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad, at Tower No. 53, eleven miles south of this city. The list of fatalities may be increased, however.

Released.

Raleigh, N. C., July 30.—Charles H. Peacock the prominent young man of Smithfield, N. C, committed to jail Saturday, charged with the murder of Alonzo B. Jones, July 13, was today released from jail through a writ of habeas corpus. The supreme court holds that the evidence against him is insufficient and of a doubtful character.

Peasants to Send Delegates.

St. Petersburg, July 30.—The peasants in many provincial districts have decided to send delegates to St. Petersburg to investigate present conditions and learn what are the government's intentions. They will then advise the peasants at home what attitude to assume, and let them know what they may expect.

The newspapers which have escaped suppression at the hands of the government continue to criticise the government, but Premier Stolypin is not attempting to bridle them.

There is practically no change today in the situation throughout Russia. Disorders are reported from several quarters but nothing approaching a general uprising has been attempted, and the government still has the situation well in hand.

In the meantime, fresh mutinies among the troops at various stations, uprisings on the part of the peasants in hitherto unaffected districts, and outbreaks among the workmen in various labor centres have occurred to make the task of governing the country more difficult and to arouse the people to oppose the government by force when the proper time for resorting to force arrives. There is no truth in a report circulated last night by certain agencies to the effect that General Trepoff has been assassinated. Another such rumor was set afloat last week, but proved as groundless as the present report.

Murder Recalled.

Newport News, Va, July 30.—Attorney W. S. Stuart today made application before Judge Barham, of the corporation court, for the appointment of a committee on a convicts estate for the purpose of collecting the life insurance policy, amounting to $78 on the life of Julia Pavlinic, who was murdered by her husband at her request. The policy is in favor of Pavlinic, and he desires to collect the money in order to take his case to the court of appeals. Judge Barham announced that he will hear the motion Tuesday or Wednesday. Pavlinic committed a remarkable crime. He is an Austrian by birth, and, according to all evidence in the case, and his own protestations, loved his wife devotedly. The woman was taken insane and confined in the Williamsburg Asylum. After repeated efforts she was released in his care. She escaped and after wandering for a week was captured in New York city. She was returned to Williamsburg. Pavlinic again secured her release and stated that he had promised to kill her rather than allow her to return to Williamsburg. She was all right for a few months, and then she showed signs of returning insanity. Pavlinic shot his wife while she was sleeping, using a .32 calibre toy pistol and firing 19 bullets into her. At his trial he maintained his sanity. All three insanity experts testified that he was and asked that he be executed. The jury gave him eighteen years. There is nothing in the policy to prevent Pavlinic from recovering, but it will be argued as against public policy to allow him to do so and a fight will be made on these grounds.

The Hartje Divorce Case.

Pittsburg, July 30.—The long heralded explanation of how the Madine letters in the Hartje divorce suit were secured was given in court this morning, when detective John M. Staubb, of the Muncey agency, swore that he had secured exhibits from 10 to 39 from Thomas Madine's trunk. The bulk of the letters, he swore, were obtained on June 18, the date on which Madine reported to the Oakland police that his trunk had been looted, The other letters were obtained, Staubb said, on May 31.

Staubb admitted that he is the mysterious "Mr. Craig," having given that name to Madine's boarding house keeper. He did not personally take the letters from Madine's trunk, he testified, but witnessed this act, which detective John Anderson did.

Attempt to Dynamite a Train.

Paris, July 30.—An unsuccessful attempt was made to dynamite a train on which the Russian Grand Duke Vladimir was a passenger near Charleroi, Belgium. The attempt is attributed to Russian anarchists. It is reported that the fireman on the engine was murdered.

Later advices say that a dynamite cartridge placed on the tracks caused the explosion. The train was derailed and, according to the latest report, the engineer was killed and the fireman mortally injured, while many passengers were hurt.

Pottsville, Pa., July 30.—A strange disturbance in an abandoned sewer at St. Claire yesterday resulted in an investigation and, after making an opening, workingmen succeeded in taking out a cow and a newly-born calf. Latest Novel is of New Jersey Life.

Mary E. Wilkins-Freeman, who has for some years been known as the author who drew true life portraits of the characters of the New England village, has found a new field for her work. She has written a novel, the characters for which she has found in southern New Jersey. Whether the people of that section will enjoy her pictures is yet to be seen, but they will surely enjoy the story itself—one of the greatest mystery-romances ever written. The title of the novel is "Doc. Gordon," and the first instalment will be printed in the Sunday North American of Philadelphia next Sunday, August 5. It will be completed during the month of August in the special fiction supplement of that paper before it is allowed to appear in book form. Readers who would not miss reading all of the Wilkins novel should make themselves safe by ordering the paper for the full month.

New York Stock Market.

New York, July 30.—The traders were favorably impressed by the present energy of the bull forces. They were inclined to take profits, however, before the end of the first hour but the market shaded very slightly from the best figures. Realizing sales were in some cases influenced by the reconsideration of the bank statement showing under the disapproval of the banking interests of any undue strain on the resources of the banks just previous to the crop movements.

Sacred Cattle in Quarantine.

Fifty head of sacred cattle of India, suffering from some dread Oriental disease, are held in quarantine at New York by order of the Bureau of Animal Industry. They were imported by A. P. Bodren, of Pierce, Tex., who wished to make experiments looking to the eradication of the Texas fever among American cattle.

He has a herd of the home cattle on an island, and, believing that the India stock was immune to the fever, intended to breed them with the others, thereby hoping to produce a species that would not be susceptible to the disease. The Agricultural Department determined not to admit the cattle until they had undergone quarantine, and just as they were about to be released the scourge broke out. Several of the cattle have been killed and it is believed that the rest will either have to be slain or returned to India.

Edwin Day, who was stabbed by Elmer Pittman in Cincinnati, O, last Friday night is in a serious condition at the city hospital and may not recover. Pittman is in jail, awaiting the result of Day's injuries. Several months ago Pittman eloped from Haddonfield, N. J., with Day's wife. Day followed and attempted to induce his wife to return to him without avail. The men met Friday night in the street, where the woman lives and the stabbing followed. Mrs. Day refused to visit her husband at the hospital until yesterday, when she went to his bedside. Not a word of greeting was exchanged, but she took his hand. For nearly twenty minutes they sat silently regarding one another, and when she arose, she whispered the one word, "Goodbye." Day smiled a wan smile, but his wispered word could not be heard.

Alexandria Day.

Luna Park had been prepared at an early hour this morning for the festivities incident to Alexandria Day, and the electric railway company had perfected arrangements to meet all demands for transportation. While the festivities during the day have been greatly enjoyed by the many who have visited the park, the most interesting features will be presented after 7 o'clock this evening, when a representation of the Custer massacre will be given in which the Red Men of this city and the Alexandria Light Infantry will participate. The old Friendship fire engine will later fight a fire which will be kindled in an improvised structure. There will also be shadow dances in the evening. Later festivities will include a general carnival. Large numbers of persons who were unable to leave the city during the day will be at the park early this evening to witness the various interesting features. In accordance with Mayor Paff's proclamation, a number of merchants closed their places of business this afternoon. The city offices were also closed.

Branson, of Washington. The boy was taken to Washington. Several months ago Reid was arrested in Washington charged with the larceny of a bicycle and a cornet. He was fined $50 and costs, which his father paid. Young Reid ran away from his home July 19. He went to Washington, and going to the home of Mr. Branson, asked permission to spend the night. This was given, and it is alleged that Reid got up in the middle of the night and went through Branson's trousers, taking a $5 note and some change.

James Griffin and a soldier, who are also serving terms, rushed to Mr. Cox's assistance and prevented Baltimore from making his escape. It is said that it was the intention of other prisoners to leave the jail with Baltimore. Baltimore was arraigned in the Police Court this morning and fined $25 for assault.

Rain fell at intervals yesterday and last night, and the temperature was mild. The attendance at most of the churches was not large in consequence of the weather. The uncertain condition caused a falling off in numbers of Sunday excursionists.

New Lighthouse.

For several years past attempts have been made to obtain an appropriation for the erection of a lighthouse on Ragged Point, in the lower end of the Potomac, on the Virginia side of the river, but it was not until the last session of Congress that the appropriation was made, $30,000 having been given for the light. The structure, it is understood, will, like that at Smith's Point, at the mouth of the river, be constructed on a steel cylinder built on a heavy caisson sunk deep in the bed of the river. Its light will be visible for about ten miles. The new station will also be equipped with a modern fog signal apparatus. Ragged Point for several years past has been marked by a light buoy.

Miss Maria Tucker a Born Heroine.

All those who were rescued from drowning at Virginia Beach Friday afternoon, have fully recovered from their experience, and report no suffering as a result of their narrow escape from a watery grave.

Miss Maria Tucker, who saved Miss Ida Bargamin's life at Virginia Beach Friday, is one of a family several members of which have saved lives from the waves at the Beach. Her father, Bishop Beverly Tucker, of the Episcopal Diocese of Southern Virginia, has rescued at least six people who but for his help would have drowned. Her brother, the Rev. St. George Tucker, now president of the Episcopal Missionary College at Tokio, Japan, has pulled about a dozen drowning bathers from the waves.

One of the latter's most dangerous rescues was in the summer of 1898. A young lady had been floated by the man who was with her far beyond their depth. The girl became exhausted and lost her head; her escort had no nerve and swam to shore, leaving her floating alone. From the shore the girl could be seen now and then as a heavy swell lifted her in sight.

Mr. Tucker was sitting fully dressed on the front porch of the Tucker cottage when he saw the girl's perilous condition. Throwing off his coat as he ran to the water, he dashed in, swam out to the girl, and, putting his hand behind her head, pushed her before him through the long stretch of water between them and the shore.

Miss Bargamin, who is the daughter of C. Y. Bargamin, of 1418 Park avenue, Richmond, is reported as having recovered from the shock and sickness incident to her rough experience in the surf when the undertow rolled her out.

Miss Bargamin is staying with her sister, Mrs. Woodson Waddy, at Mrs. Blow's cottage, Virginia Beach.—[Norfolk Landmark.

Card Scandal.

A great society scandal at Munich is causing intense excitement in Bavarian society. One royal prince, two dukes, about twenty counts and many lesser members of the nobility are involved in the scandal, which has overwhelmed many leading Bavarian families with grief and shame. The root of the whole evil appears to be a fashionable club at Munich, which is nothing less than a gambling resort of the worst type. Night after night gambling proceeds there to a reckless extent, and enormous sums are won and lost daily between the hours of midnight and 6 in the morning. Heavy losses have ruined many promising young officers of the Bavarian army, as well as numerous young noblemen and members of the civil service. Some of them, unable to face the disgrace of not paying debts incurred at the card tables, resorted to all sorts of swindles to secure sufficient funds to enable them to continue attendance at the club. Others committed suicide to escape the consequences of their folly. The suicides include Count Max Preysing, who was unable to pay gambling debts exceeding £100,000.

Prince Francis Joseph of Bavaria is implicated in the scandal, owing to the fact that a number of officers forged his signature to promissory notes, whereby they obtained large sums of money by fraud.

Investigations have shown that sums up to £50,000 have changed hands within the club in one night. Some unscrupulous members resorted to systematic card sharping in order to fleece inexperienced players. One young officer has been arrested in connection with the scandal, but the precise charge against him is not known.

These revelations have created a profound sensation throughout Germany.

St. Peter's Tomb.

Catholic circles in New York have been stirred by an open letter signed by "Marcellus of the Old Stones," addressed to Pope Pius X. calling on him to open the tomb of St. Peter, at Rome, and settle for all time the current gossip that if such a tomb exists, it would be found to contain nothing.

For 15 years or more there have been doubts in archeological circles as to whether there is a tomb where the famous monument of Michael Angelo stands, and where Roman pontiffs for centuries have knelt in prayer before taking up the burden of governing the Catholic Church.

But no one has been bold enough to pen a letter calling on the reigning pontiff to excavate and so settle the doubts. Marcellus declared, briefly, that there is no tomb, or if such a thing exists, it will be found to have been desecrated.

"This," he says, "is the belief of foremost archeologists of Europe. There is still a doubt, however, and to settle the minds of all interested, and in the interest of science, it is the duty of the Pope to order an excavation."

Marcellus' letter has drawn do response from the Pope, but two of the most distinguished archeologists in the Catholic Church, Professor Marucchi and the Jesuit Father Grisar, declare Marcellus is wrong, that there is a tomb and that the body of the First of the Apostles is there.

Father Grisar and Pofessor Marucchi, however, and Mgr. Barnes, another eminent archeologist, agree with Marcellus that the tomb should be opened in order that the doubters should be convinced.

Queer Things About Flames.

There is a relation between the color of flame and the energy of the combustion causing it. The more vigorous and complete the combustion the higher the refrangibility of the light. A flame burning in a tardy and restricted way emits rays that are red. When burning in a more complete and effective manner the emitted rays change to violet. The flame of a candle or a lamp consists of a series of eccentric luminous shells surrounding a central dark core. These shells of flame emit light of different colors, the innermost one—that in direct contact with the dark core—being red and having a temperature of exactly 977 degrees F. Upon this and in their proper order of refrangibility are shells of light which are orange, yellow, green, blue, indigo and violet. The reason that such a flame does not appear to us as a nest of cones of different colored light is this: When we look upon such a flame all of the rays issuing from the different layers or strata of concentric luminous shells are received by the retina of the eye at one and the same time. This can only impress with the sensation of neutral or white light.

Rubies.

The finest rubies are still kept in Asia. The Great Mogul had 108 large rubies in his throne, and among them was one weighing two and one-half ounces. Of European rubies Charles the Bold, that luckless son of a fortunate father, had three rubies called the Three Brothers, of perfect color and worthy size. They passed into the possession of James I., who sent them to "Baby Charles." There is a large heart shaped balas ruby in the English crown. It has been neither cut nor polished, is only semitransparent and is of a dark red, like a morello cherry. Austria had, or has, an oriental ruby the size of a hen's egg, and Queen Elizabeth showed Sir James Melville one as big as a racket ball. Runjeet Singh had a large ruby with the names of many kings engraved on it. Among them was that of Aurangzeb. A king of Persia had one which he prized at the value of a city or even a kingdom. It was a table cut balas ruby of a beautiful color of at least a finger's breadth.

The Ship's Log.

The record of a ship's voyage is called its log because the observations of its speed, usually taken hourly, by the log line are a very important factor in the record. The log line is so called because the float attached to the line was originally a small log or stick of wood. This "log" is now a square or triangular piece of board weighted so that it sits upright in the water. The log line is divided by knots or marks into lengths of fifty-one feet, which is about one one-hundred-and-twentieth of a marine mile, so that the ship is going as many marine miles or knots in an hour as the number of knots or lengths that run off the reel in half a minute when the "log" is thrown overboard.

Animals In Mohammedan Heaven.

According to the Mohammedans, ten animals have been admitted to paradise—the dog Kratim, the follower of the seven sleepers, Balaam's ass, Solomon's ant, the honeybee, Jonah's whale, the ram which was offered in sacrifice in place of Isaac, the camel of Saleb, the cuckoo of Balkis, the ox of Moses and Al Borak, the monstrosity which conveyed Mohammed from earth to heaven and back again in a very short time. These creatures were all sainted for some special services which they had rendered to man.

English Railway Signals.

An observant traveler on English railways could tell you at once the railway upon which he is traveling by merely looking at the first signal he passes. It may surprise many to know that there are hardly two styles quite alike in this country in station architecture and fittings, color of rolling stock, design and color of the locomotives, uniforms of the servants, style of the signal cabins and signal appliances and many other details.—London Mail.

Adder Stones.

The singular superstition of the value of adder stones for curing a variety of ills has continued in many countries from the time of the Romans. These celebrated charms are nothing more than antique green or blue glass striped in various designs and perforated. The virtues of these stones are sung in the poems of the ancient Druids and are mentioned by Pliny and other classical writers.

"See here!" said the theatrical manager. "You want to quit your overbearing behavior toward the other members of this company"—

INTERESTING LETTER

WRITTEN BY A NOTABLE WOMAN

Mrs. Sarah Kellogg of Denver, Color Bearer of the Woman's Relief Corps, Sends Thanks to Mrs. Pinkham.

Mrs. Sarah Kellogg

The following letter was written by Mrs. Kellogg, of 1698 Lincoln Ave., Denver, Col., to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.: Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"For five years I was troubled with a tumor, which kept growing, causing the intense agony and great mental depression. I was unable to attend to my house work, and life became a burden to me. I was confined for days to my bed, lost my appetite, my courage and all hope.

"I could not bear to think of an operation, and in my distress I tried every remedy which I thought would be of any use to me, and reading of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to sick women decided to give it a trial. I felt so discouraged that I had little hope of recovery, and when I began to feel better, after the second week, thought it only meant temporary relief; but to my great surprise I found that I kept gaining, while the tumor lessened in size.

"The Compound continued to build up my general health and the tumor seemed to be absorbed, until, in seven months, the tumor was entirely gone and I a well woman. I am so thankful for my recovery that I ask you to publish my letter in newspapers, so other women may know of the wonderful curative powers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

When women are troubled with irregular or painful periods, weakness, displacement or ulceration of the female organs, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, flatulence, general debility, indigestion or nervous prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles.

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female ills.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years under her direction and since her decease has been advising sick women free of charge. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Remember that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is curing women, and don't allow any druggist to sell you anything else in its place.

The Price.

Whenever I have heard people railing at the vast fortunes of some of the California millionaires, says an English writer, I have always replied that no man became a millionaire in the early history of California who had not earned his fortune by the risks he had had the courage to face. I remembered an old Irishman named Bill Dunphy bringing home to my mind what these pioneers had encountered when he told me how he and a companion had fared in a journey across the continent. The companion injured his leg. Dunphy had to cut it off with an ax and then, going forward through the dark untraced woods to search for the trail and for food, had to leave his friend behind by the side of a stream and with a single tin of biscuits to keep him up till his friend's return. Then I saw what the pioneers of 1849 had faced, and I felt that they merited such rewards, however great, as fortune had afterward bestowed upon them.

Linen Makes Rice Paper.

The rice plant contributes nothing toward the manufacture of rice cigarette papers but the name. Rice paper as bought by the cigarette merchants of Egypt and Turkey is made from only perfectly new trimmings of linen and mostly comes from English and French mills in Constantinople, Fumen and France. The celebrated Chinese rice paper is made from thin slices of the pith from the canes of a tree about five feet high. A sharp knife pares the pith into cylinders of uniform thickness, which are then unrolled and pressed out into so called rice paper. By the way, Egyptian cigarettes contain no Egyptian tobacco, for since 1890 the cultivation of the tobacco plant has been prohibited. It is for workmanship and the curing of the leaf that the Cairenes are so justly celebrated, but the tobacco they import comes entirely from Turkey.
